

BIG QUESTION: What was George's life like as he grew up?

DIARY ENTRY #6: George's First Day of College

Imagine you are George Edwin Taylor, 17 years old, and about to experience your first day of college. You have spent the last 4 years living with the Smiths, and learning the importance of hard work and discipline. They have paid your tuition. What will your first day of college be like? What are you worried about? What are you looking forward to? What impact will going to college have on your life?
